WWW.ICNIRS.ORG

The ICNIRS website (<http://www.icnirs.org>) has been revamped making it more user friendly. The public part provides visitors with an overview of ICNIRS activities. These include the Tomas Hirschfeld award, honorary title of “Fellow of NIR Spectroscopy,” ICNIRS conferences, ICNIRS publications and discussion forum. In this website, the news and events are provided regularly by web correspondents through the on-line administration tool. This new release includes also an intranet section giving to the ICNIRS members, access to ICNIRS meetings & minutes, Tomas Hirschfeld Award lectures, ICNIRS lectures, ICNIRS videos, ICNIRS e-learning, ICNIRS datasets and Job opportunities. To enjoy these advantages, ICNIRS invites you to register and pay, on-line, your ICNIRS membership fee on <http://www.icnirs.org>

In order to further promote NIR technology, the ICNIRS team is ready to collaborate with you, offering a complete platform with all the communication tools necessary for the dissemination of your activities. Your contributions to the ICNIRS website are very welcome.
